

BRYNN SMITH

University of Oregon, Institute of Neuroscience

Undergraduate Research Assistant

September 2022 - Present

1585 E 13th Ave, Eugene, OR 97403 Phone: (541) 636-8470

As an undergraduate researcher, I am studying the effects of microbiome transmission on social behavior in a zebrafish model. I have learned many new hands-on skills such as dissections under a microscope, gained exposure to science outside of a textbook, and presented my research and academic papers to panels. My leadership, time management, public speaking, and critical thinking skills have drastically improved over the course of this job and will only continue to improve.

Chief Seattle Council, Camp Parsons BSA

Medic - September 2023

Office Manager - Summer 2023

Craft Lodge Director - Summer 2022

Craft Lodge Crew - Summer 2019, 2021

970 Bee Mill Rd, Brinnon, WA 98320 Phone: (360) 796-4427

I started working at Camp Parsons at 16 and have returned every Summer since. I teach merit badges classes to kids age 11-17, perform songs and skits, communicate with parents and volunteers, and work in a large team. Customer service, public speaking, leadership, teamwork, and endurance were all important skills of this job that I was able to build.
